

Lafayette Wedding Unites Pair

IN A CEREMONY yesterday noon Mrs. Frank Kennedy Jackson became the bride of Judge Oliver D. Hamlin, Federal District judge of the Ninth Circuit. The ritual, attended by family members, took place in St. Perpetua Church in Lafayette, with Msgr. Leo Powleson of St. Patrick's Church in San Francisco officiating.

Following the rites there was a wedding luncheon at the Happy Valley, Lafayette home of the new Mrs. Hamlin's son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Jackson.

The bride wore a navy blue silk frock with a matching hat. She was attended by her sister, Mrs. Claire Dickson.

The newlyweds will go South on their wedding trip and will return to reside in Judge Hamlin's home in Lafayette.

The bride is the widow of the late Frank Kennedy Jackson of Piedmont and the benedict's first wife was the late Mrs. Hamlin. Both the Jackson and Hamlin families are long time friends.
